- Fiddler on the Roof in Concert. Gold Main Floor Seating for the 4:00pm performance. "Our 2022 world of Fiddler is examined through a broader contemporary lens, embracing a diverse cast of individuals impacted by oppression and displacement, and telling a vital Jewish narrative while simultaneously exploring the contemporary global context of cultures, diasporas, and families forced to become refugees in order to chart paths forward. Anatevka, a shtetl in Tsarist Russia, represents a community clinging to the ways of the past as the world around them changes at a rapid pace.

In this semi-staged theatrical concert performance, professional singers will grace the stage alongside phenomenally talented U-M Musical Theatre students to create a special event that will premiere in Hill Auditorium and then be performed by The Philadelphia Orchestra as part of a multi-faceted creative partnership. A robust suite of contextual events will explore the major themes of the work and their ongoing significance to our lives today. The performance features the orchestral arrangement of the score by a young John Williams, which premiered in the movie version 50 years ago and has never been heard live."

- Tour Manager – Professional from Rybicki Tours Driver and Tour Manager gratuity not included.
